10 Art Exhibitions That Should Be On Your Must-See List

Escape the holiday frenzy at these venues of art treasures.

"Rotch-Jones-Duff House & Garden Museum"

As a centerpiece of the American Art Museum New York, the exhibition features the original home of Charles M. and Katherine M. Harriman, an important American art collector and his wife. The house, built in 1900, was designed by Charles Follen McKim, and contains many works of art from the Harriman collection, including paintings, sculptures, and decorative arts.

"Saratoga Springs: The Art of the Gilded Age"

This exhibition, held at the Saratoga Springs Historical Museum, showcases the artistic achievements of the Gilded Age in Saratoga Springs. The exhibition features works by prominent artists of the era, including John Singer Sargent, James McNeill Whistler, and Mary Cassatt.

"Art in the Age of the Avant-Garde"

Located at the Museum of Modern Art, this exhibition explores the development of avant-garde art movements in the 20th century, including Cubism, Dada, and Surrealism. The exhibition features works by famous artists such as Pablo Picasso, Wassily Kandinsky, and Salvador Dalí.

"The Language of Abstract Art"

Held at the Whitney Museum of American Art, this exhibition examines the evolution of abstract art from its early 20th-century origins to the present day. The exhibition features works by major abstract artists such as Wassily Kandinsky, Piet Mondrian, and Mark Rothko.

"The Art of the Renaissance"

At the Metropolitan Museum of Art, this exhibition explores the art of the Italian Renaissance, from the 14th to the 17th centuries. The exhibition features paintings, sculptures, and works on paper by major Renaissance artists such as Leonardo da Vinci, Michelangelo, and Raphael.

"The Art of the Baroque"

Located at the National Gallery of Art, this exhibition showcases the art of the Baroque period, from the mid-16th to the mid-18th centuries. The exhibition features works by major Baroque artists such as Caravaggio, Rembrandt, and Velázquez.

"The Art of the Victorian Era"

Held at the Victoria and Albert Museum, this exhibition explores the art of the Victorian period, from the 1830s to the late 19th century. The exhibition features works by major Victorian artists such as John CONSTABLE, Thomas Gainsborough, and JMW Turner.

"The Art of the Post-Impressionist Era"

At the Museum of Modern Art, this exhibition explores the art of the Post-Impressionist period, from the late 19th to early 20th centuries. The exhibition features works by major Post-Impressionist artists such as Vincent van Gogh, Paul Gauguin, and Claude Monet.

"The Art of the Modernist Era"

Located at the Museum of Modern Art, this exhibition explores the art of the Modernist period, from the early 20th century to the present day. The exhibition features works by major Modernist artists such as Pablo Picasso, Alexander Calder, and Barnett Newman.